

Work-Life Balance at the CRG

In a big and vibrant city such as Barcelona it is important for a personal well-being to be able to organise the daily activities in the most convenient way. That is why the CRG aims not only to ensure the appropriate working conditions for the employees, but also pays additional attention to individual needs and respects the principles of work-life balance.

A seafront location next to the city centre, close proximity to the major places of daily life activities and flexibility of choosing the social benefits allows employees to achieve a better work-life balance.
